

St. Thomas Episcopal Church
Senior Warden's report 2009

My term as senior warden was shorter than normal but I hope I did well. I took over in April after we made the call for our new minister. There was much to get done before he and his family arrived, getting the rectory ready was the major item and there were many helping hands to clean, scrub, and polish; thank you all.

We came through a difficult time but as a family I feel we did well, working together for the good of all. As with any family there are sometime disagreements but I feel our church family did a remarkable job working things out to the benefit of the church family and I pray we continue in that same vein. We can show our faith and love in so many ways, we just need to do it.

Serving as Senior Warden has shown me how important it is for everyone to be a part of the running of the church from finance to outreach, from stewardship to education. Every part is important and every person is important. I pray our numbers continue to grow and we continue to grow and walk in our Lord's love doing those things we know he would want us to do. We have many ideas and there is much renewed enthusiasm.

Thank you to the vestry members and my church family for all your support during the past year.

Respectfully,

Toby Varvais
